

Nature Newfoundland and Labrador is now accepting applications for the 2019 Wild Things Scholarship.

This $1,000 scholarship recognizes the enthusiasm and efforts of a student whose volunteer activities have helped to conserve or enhance nature in Newfoundland and Labrador.

We are sending this announcement to a wide range of people and institutions. Please help us by circulating this email to individuals, groups, or institutions that are likely to be in contact with potential applicants.

To Apply:

We welcome applications from residents of Newfoundland and Labrador who:

- 1) are—or will be—enrolled in a post-secondary program; and
- 2) have demonstrated an active commitment to nature and the environment through their volunteer activities in the province.

Application Deadline: 25 March, 2019

Apply online or print and mail hard copy.

Thank you!

Sara Jenkins

Wild Things Scholarship Coordinator

Nature Newfoundland and Labrador

About the Scholarship

The Wild Things Scholarship is one of the many legacies of naturalist and educator Dave Snow, who passed away in 2017. When barely out of University, Dave challenged Nature NL to establish a scholarship for students who were directly engaged in conservation activities in NL. The Board and members of Nature NL will miss him dearly. Maintaining the scholarship in perpetuity in Dave's memory is an important cornerstone of our organization.

NatureNL administers the scholarship competition and awarding. Generous financial support is provided by Wildland Tours and an anonymous donor.

To read more about previous years' winners, visit our website at <http://naturenl.ca/awards/wildthings/>